Alexander-Cowan Oct 5/26 A quiet but pretty wedding took place on Saturday afternoon, October 2, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Cowan, Langton, when their only daughter, Florence Evelyn, was married to Dr. Howard A'exander, of Welland, son of Mrs. Kate Alexander, of Nor-wich. Rev. W. O. Bristol, pastor of Langton Baptist Church, officiated. The bride entered the parlor on the arm of her father and took her place before a bank of ferns and pink and white autumn flowers, while the bridal chorus from Lohengrin was played by Miss Jean Alexander, of Weston, cousin of the groom. The bride wore a white georgette gown trimmed with silver insertion, with transparent hem. Her veil of silk was worn by her grandmother and over this fell a long veil of tulle, arranged in fan effect in the back and held in place by a band of orange blossoms and pearls. Silver brocaded slippers and stockings completed her costume and she carried a shower bouquet of Butterfly roses and lily of the valley. Miss Grace Alexander, cousin of the groom, was bridesmaid, wearing a gown of rose georgette trimmed with gray cut velvet and black hat and carrying an armful of pink roses. Little Miss Marjorie Cowan, niece of the bride, was a winsome flower girl in a dainty frock of shell-pink frilled georgette. She carried a colonial bouquet of rosebuds and wore a silver bracelet, the gift of the groom.
The groom was attended by Mr. W. A.
Dinwoodie, of Toronto. The groom's gift to the bride was a fox fur, to the bridesmaid and pianist French copper vanity cases, to the groomsman gold cuff links. While congratulations were being offered Mendelssohn's wedding march was played. Luncheon was served later. The bride's table was The bride's table was done in pink and white and was prettily arranged with the wedding cake in the center and on either side silver candlesticks with tall pink candles. The bride's mother wore black georgette with white trimmings and corsage bouquet of red roses and violets. Mrs. Kate Alexander, mother of the bridegroom, was dressed in mauve satin with corsage bouquet of red roses and violets. Immediately after the luncheon Dr. and Mrs. Alexander left by motor for Owen Sound and thence by boat to Manitoulin Is'and. On their return they will reside in Welland. The bride traveled in a blue crepe gown, black velvet hat and coat of blue needle point with trimmings of gray fur.

A pretty autumn wedding was solemnized on Saturday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Wilcox, Lindsay road, Chatham Township, when their youngest daughter, Pansy, became the bride of Wesley Wilson, of the University of Western Ontario Medical College, London, and elder son of Mr. and Mrs. David Wilson, of Wabash. Rev. T. W. Hazelwood, B.A., performed the ceremony in the presence of about 80 guests.

The Wilcox residence was tastefully decorated with autumn leaves and chrysanthemums, while palms and banks of fern made a becoming setting for the bridal party. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was charming in her gown of ivory georgette with satin trimmings, white satin shoes and hose to match, and wore a becoming veil of embroldered tuille held in place with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of valley lilies and Ophelia roses. The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Helen Moore, of Chicago, who was gowned in rose-corored shot taffeta silk and carried a houquet of Ophelia roses. Mr. Garnet Wilcox, brother of the bride, supported the groom, and little Alma and Leato Wilcox, nieces of the bride, made charming flower girls in their gowns of canary crepe with satin trimmings. The wed-ding music was played by Miss Pearl Meggs, of Chatham, and during the signing of the register Mrs. Hazlewood, of Courtright, sang "I Love Truly."

A buffet luncheon was served after the wedding service, the bride's table being centred with her cake and bud vases with mums.

The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a substantial check; to the bridesmaid, a sterling vanity box; to the planist, a sterling Evans case; to the soloist, a barpin set in emeralds; to the best man, gold cuff links, and to the flower girls, silver mesh purses.

Amid showers of confetti and good

Amid showers of confetti and good wishes, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson left for Windsor and Detroit on their honeymoon, the bride traveling in a navy georgette crepe dress with cut velvet trimming, and gray needlepoint coat, trimmed with mountain fox, and gray hat and shoes to match.

JOSE-JOHNSON.

The Metropolitan Church was lovely with the delicacy of spring flowers against a background of ferns and palms for the marriage of Eva Leslie, daughter of Mr. E. and the late Mrs. Johnson, of Kitchener, to Dr. John G. Jose of St. Marys, son of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Jose of Kirkton, Ont., which took place at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Rev. J. Bruce Hunter was the officiating clergyman.

In an exquisite gown of Alencon lace with the skirt of ivory satin cut in flared style and falling to the heels of her dainty brocaded slippers, the bride descended the aisle on the arm of her father and took her place before the flower-banked altar. The bridal veil, which was also of rare Alencon, was worn as a Juliet cap fastened at either side with a knot of orange blossoms, and formed a short train. A shower bouquet of orchids and valley lilies and a crystal necklace, the gift of the groom, completed the bridal ensemble

Preceding the pretty bride was a pair of dainty attendants, the Misses Muriel Kennedy of Ilderton and Alice Macklin of Kitchener. Miss Kennedy's gown was of apple green crepe with flared skirt, and Miss Macklin's was similarly designed in orchid crepe. Large mohair hats in matching shades and silver shoes and hose were worn. They carried arm bouquets of roses. Dr. Harold Henderson was the groomsman and the ushers were Edwin Jarmain and Oswald Brown.

During the signing of the register Dr. E. J. Williams of St. Marys sang "At Dawning" to the organ accompaniment by K. Ireland, who also played the bridal processional and recessional.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Jarmain, Horn street, Mr. and Mrs. Jarmain received with the bride and groom, the latter wearing a becoming model of black and white chiffon with a white hat. Mrs. Jose, the groom's mother, chose a handsome gown of black lace with hat to match.

The luncheon table was centred with snapdragon and roses and lighted with tall ivory tapers. The Misses Margaret Maitland, Elsie Haines, Ethel Jackson and Madeline Chapman (Detroit),

Collyer-Talbot

One of the loveliest of the early autumn weddings took place on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock at the Dufferin avenue home of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Talbot, when their only daughter, Helen Hovenden, became the bride of Dr. Carold Bekert College. Gerald Robert Collyer, of this city, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Collyer, also of London

The long living-rooms were delightfully arranged with creamy asters, deep ivory-toned gladioli and baby's breath, and lighted by long tapers of pale gold. The ceremony, which took place before one of the mantels banked with flowers, was performed by Very Rev. Dean L. N. Tucker, of St. Paul's Cathedral, assisted by Rev. Bernard Johnson. The bridal music was played by Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Waddington, of Toronto, on violin and piano. Mrs. Vaddington, who was formerly Madeline Baker, of this city, smartly frocked in black taffeta.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore her mother's wedding gown of rich satin, in a deep creamy tone, most becoming to her brunette charm. Duchess lace formed a panel and wide band on the skirt, which showed the uneven hemline dipping in the back. The sleeveless bodice was close-fitting and also delicately trimmed with lace. The bridal veil was of lovely old Brussels lace, arranged in cap effect, caught to the bride's dark hair with orange blossoms and falling in a long train over an undertrain of tulle. Creamy satin shoes, with French brilliant buckles, the gift of the matyon of honor, were worn, and the bride carried a shower of yellow roses of a tone deeper than her gown, showered with golden ribbons and lilies of the valley, and tied with a broad band of gold. Her only ornament was an arramarine barpin, the bridegroom's

Mrs. Nelles Laughton, as matron of honor, and Miss Alice McLean, of Detroit, as bridesmaid, wore lovely gowns of chiffon in nasturtium tones, designed with three-tiered skirts, shading from pastel yellow to flame, and closefitting sleeveless bodies. Silver slippers were worn, and the attendants carried bouquets of cornflowers and Columbia roses, tied with silver ribbons.

Percy Collyer, of London, was his brother's best man, and the ushers, were Allen Talbot, of Detroit, and Freeman Talbot, of London, brothers of the bride.

At the reception, which followed the ceremony, Mrs. Talbot, the bride's mother, wore a handsome gown of beige lace with corsage of Ophelia roses. Mrs. C. R. Collyer was gowned in black chiffon velvet and lace, and Mrs. Donald Ferguson, of Toledo, chose a mauve lace costume. The bridegroom's sister. Miss Olive Collyer, wore coral_velvet, and Mrs_Gordon Cooper, another sister, was handsomely gowned in jade green.

A buffet supper was served in the dining-room, where the table decora-tions were the clever handiwork of Miss Dorothy Gleason. A shower of baby's breath and white ribbons falling from the electrolier surrounded the flower-crowned wedding cake, and tall, pale yellow candles were held at the base by creamy-white asters and baby's breath.

Dr. and Mrs. Collyer, who will reside in London, left later for Toronto and Montreal by motor. The bride traveled in a rose beige gown hat and coat, the latter collared in mink.

Ollerhead-Higgins Wedding Is a Charming Candle-Light Cermony at the Bride's Home

The light of many candles in the long drawing-room of Mr. and Mrs. B. Howard Higgins' attractive home on Dundas street provided a lovely setting on Saturday afternoon for the marriage of their elder daughter, Elinor Holway, to William Walker Ollerhead, M.D., son of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Ollerhead, also of London.

The ceremony, performed by Canon Quintin Warner, rector of Cronyn Memorial Church, assisted by Rev. D. C. MacGregor, D.D., of St. Andrew's United Church, took place at 3.30 o'clock. Tall standard candelebra holding five ivory candles each, were arranged before the fireplace, and rows of smaller candles also in ivory were placed across the mantel, graduating from the centre, above a border of snowy white 'mums and gypsohilia. Ferns banked the fireplace before which stood a Pre Dieu of ivory satin, and yellow and white mums and great bowls of Talisman roses were arranged through the room, which was lighted only by the soft glow of many candles.

FORM AN AISLE

From the stairway to the improvised altar an aisle of white ribbons was formed by the ushers, Fred Kime, of London; Ross Anderson, of Toronto, and the bride's brothers, Ben and Edward Higgins. Down this aisle passed the lovely golden-haired bride, escorted by her father and preceded by her four pretty attendants, Miss Helen Higgins, her sister, as junior bridesmaid: Miss Jean McIntosh, and Miss Elinor Harris, Toronto, and Miss Kathleen Yeates, of London.

Walking in single file they made a charming picture in their rich gowns of American Beauty red crepe, the skirts touching the floor, the long sleeves with their gauntlet cuffs and the graceful necklines trimmed with tiny bows of velvet in a deeper tone and a big bow of the same velvet arranged in bustle effect at the back. Slippers of crepe in the darker tone were worn and big felt hats repeating this color note were trimmed with soft choux of velvet. The bridesmaids carried arm bouquets of yellow crysanthemums.

THE BRIDE'S GOWN

The bride's gown was of ivory satin. on molded lines, the skirt pital. flaring softly into a train, edged with Bot a band of pearls, pearls also outlining of the University of Western Ontario.

the neck and long sleeves, the tips of which reached over the fingers. Ivory satin shoes were worn, and the veil of ivory tulle forming a longer train and deeply bordered with lace, was arranged under a smaller veil of the same delicate ivory lace, which fell to the shoulders and was held in place by bands of pearls. The bride carried a shower of creamy roses, lilies of the valley and white orchids.

Stan Nolan, of London, was the best man, and the wedding music was played by the Misses Finney, on the plane, violin, harp and flute, the Lohengrin bridal chorus and Mendelssohn's wedding march being chosen, with a soft and delightful rendering of "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice," from Samson and Delilah, during the ceremony.

MANY GUESTS

More than 125 guests were present to bring congratulations and good wishes to the popular bride and groom, who were received after the ceremony with Mr. and Mrs. B. Howard Higgins and Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Ollerhead. The bride's mother was charming in her black chiffon gown, patterned in gray and red, and appiqued on black lace, with deep sleeves of the same lace. Her small black hat was ornamented with a bow and she wore dark red slippers and carried an arm bouquet of red roses. Mrs. Ollerhead wore a hand-some black satin gown with touches of ivory satin and black hat and carried Talisman roses.

Buffet refreshments were served in the dining-room. The bride's table was lovely with a cloth of ivory tafetta edged with ecru lace, and clusters of deep-toned cream roses and valley lilies. On the buffet the bride's cake was wreathed with flowers, tall ivory candles and clusters of roses completing a pretty picture.

Later Dr. and Mrs. Ollerhead left on a motor trip, the bride going away in a smart tailored suit of green pebble cloth, with black caracul trim, and green hat, shoes, gloves and bag. Miss Donalda Graham Is Bride At Lovely Twilight Ceremony

A lovely late summer wedding was solemnized at twilight last evening in First United Church, when Donalda McBeth Graham, B.A., only daughter of Sheriff Donald A. Grahaam and Mrs. Graham, Richmond street north, became the bride of Dr. Ivan Hamilton Smith of Baltimore, Md., son of Rev. John Smith of Rutherford, Ont. The church was beautifully decorated with palms, ferns and autumn flowers, the guest pews being marked with bouquets of pink and white asters and smilax tied with white ribbon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John Smith, the groom's father, assisted by Rev. David Smith of Jaora, Central India, the groom's uncle.

The stately young bride entered the church on the arm of her father to the strains of the "Bridal Chorus," from "Lohengrin," played by Clarence Gil-mour, organist of the church.

The bride was lovely in a wedding gown of white French chiffon over satin, fashioned along princess lines, with petaled skirt falling gracefully to form a short train. The bodice was inset with Chantilly lace, which was also used at the wrists of the long sleeves. White satin slippers and short gloves completed the ensemble. The long bridal veil was of net, worn in cap shape, with an edging of Chantilly lace across the forehead, and caught at the sides with rosebuds. The bride's bouquet was a shower of Butterfly roses and valley lilies.

Miss Jean Smith, the groom's sister, was a charming bridesmaid in a French gown of nile green chiffon, with fitted bodice, and wearing a large black velvet picture hat. Silver slippers and long white kid gloves were also worn. The bridesmaid's bouquet was Pernet roses and mauve statice. Little Miss Joan McGill of North Bay, a cousin of the groom, was the winsom flower girl in a frilled frock of pink organdy, with poke bonnet, and carrying a basket of tiny Ophelia rosebuds and delphinium. Melville Winder of Toronto was the groomsman, and the ushers were Jack Graham, the bride's brother, and Geo. Orr, cousin of the bride.

During the signing of the register Miss Margaret McCallum of Mount Brydges, sang "All Joy Be Thine." Her gown was of cream chiffon, with touches of lace, and she wore a green velvet hat and shoulderette of Premiere roses.

Reception Held.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in North London. Mrs. Graham, mother of the bride, wore a handsome model of beige georgette and lace, with hat to match, and carried an arm bouquet of delphinium in pale shades, and Briarcliffe roses.

Mrs. John Smith, mother of the groom, wore a graceful model of black satin-backed crepe with hat to match and carried an arm bouquet of Pernet roses and delphinium in deep tones.

A buffet luncheon was served to some 50 guests by six cousins of the bride, the Misses Ida Graham of Komoka, Lorinta Zavitz and Jean Graham of Strath. roy, Katherine and Jean Campbell of London, and Effadore Campbell of Alvinston. The table was covered with a handsome cluny cloth and centred with a silver basket of Ophelia roses and smilax surrounded with pink tulle and with tall pink tapers in silver holders at the sides.

Later in the evening Dr. and Mrs Ivan Smith left by motor on a trip through Northern Ontario, the bride traveling in a smart travel-crepe dress in tones of brown with a lace tweed coat with large fox collar and with hat and accessories to match her ensemble:

On their return they will make their home in Baltimore.

The out-of-town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Moreland of Toronto, Mr. Duncan McCallum of Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. John Wade of Windsor, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McGill of North Bay, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hillis of Sarnia, and Dr. Stanley McTavish of Toronto.

The bride was a popular member of the class of Arts '28 of the University of Western Ontario, and the groom graduated in medicine in 1927.

NEW ST. JAMES SCENE OF OSBORNGRIERSON BRIDAL

A college romance was brought to a happy climax on Saturday afternoon at New St. James' Presbyterian Church, when Rev. James MacKay united in marriage Gladys Lenora Grierson and Dr. Cecil Ambrose Osborne. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Grierson, of North London, and the bridegroom the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Osborn, also of London.

Rose-colored dahlias and pink gladioli, in tall white standards, banked with ferns and palms, were used in decoration, while at either end stood a latticed arch, entwined with red oak and similax. Talisman roses and salvy white 'mums, tied with white satin ribbon, marked the guest pews. John McDermid presided at the organ and during the signing of the register Gordon Grierson, cousin of the bride, sang "Because."

Very lovely was the stately young bride as she was given in marriage by her father. The bridal robe was cut in ivory suede velvet, mediaeval princess style, and sweeping into a graceful train. The long tight sleeves covering the hands were accentuated by double shoulder puffs of shirred velvet, crinoline stiffened. The veil of silk net was arranged under a Juliet cap of antique rose point lace caught at the sides with orange blossoms. The bride's shoes were of ivory crepe and short white kid gloves were worn. The bridal bouquet was a sheaf of madonna and valley lilies. Her only ornament was a pendant of pearls.

Her attendants, Miss Helen Benson and Miss Ruth Watson, wore shades of pastel pink and rose in transparent velvet. Fashioned alike on long simple lines, their gowns showed the new sleeve tucked from the shoulder and puffed at the elbow. Tiny petaled turbans of palest pink and rose and crepe shoes in matching tones were worn. Pink gauntlet gloves and hand bouquets of rosebuds completed their costumes. Dr. Kenneth McAlpine, of Toronto, was best man and Harold Grierson, Dr. Robert Bristow and Dr. Beverley Robinson, all of London, acted as ushers.

THE RECEPTION

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in Thornton avenue. The drawing-room was effectively arranged with tall standards of autumn-tinted dahlias. Talisman roses and blue delphiniums and lighted by candelabra holding blue tapers.

Receiving with the bridal party were Mr. and Mrs. John Grierson and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Osborn. The bride's mother was charming in her blue transparent velvet gown of almost midnight hue. Her small chapeau was a French model in the same shade of blue, and with this she wore blue faille shoes and carried an arm bouquet of Briarcliffe roses. Mrs. Osborn wore a handsome black velvet ensemble and carried a sheaf of crimson roses.

Buffet refreshments were served in the dining-room. The table was lovely with a cloth of Italian cutwork and filet and was centred with the bride's cake, which was surrounded by tall pink tapers in silver holders. At either end were silver baskets containing pink rosebuds and the four corners were dainty nosegays. On the buffet, the groom's cake, iced in pink, was wreathed with pink buds and tall pink tapers.

Later Dr. and Mrs. Osborn left on a motor trip to New York and Atlantic City, the bride going away in a smart brown crepe tailored frock. Her travel coat was of brown suedelike cloth collared in blue fox. and she wore with this a brown hat and brown suede shoes, gloves and bag.

OUT-OF-TOWN GUESTS

The following out-of-town guests were at the wedding: Mr. and Mrs. James Mallon, Detroit: Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hadden, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Grierson, Mrs. Robert Grierson, Guelph; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rogers, Hamilton; Miss V. Donaldson, Ralph Westervelt, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Graham, Toronto; Rev. and Mrs. Mrs. Ernest Hayes, Wingham; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Moore, Windsor: Mr. and Mrs. Eric Coultis, George Coultis, Thedford, and Mrs. J. LONDON DOCTOR WED AT AYLMER

Simpson-Cohoon Nuptial Performed At Aylmer

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at Trinity Anglican Church, Aylmer, on Saturday, when Ercel Henrietta Cohoon, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Cohoon, of Aylmer, became the bride of Dr. Hector Murray Simpson, of London, son of Mrs. Simpson, of Niagara Falls. Rev. F. G. Hardy, rector of Trinity Church, officiated, assisted by Rev. H. Edgar Allen, pastor of the Aylmer Baptist Church.

Promptly at 4 o'clock the bride entered the church, and supported by her father, proceeded up the aisle to the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Helen Barnum, of St. Thomas. During the signing of the register, Mrs. Kenneth Davidson, of Detroit, sang sweetly, "I Love You Only" and "Because."

After the ceremony all the guests repaired to the home of the bride's parents, Talbot street east, where lunch was served. During lunch toasts were proposed to the bride and groom by Rev. Mr. Hardy and Rev. Mr. Allen, and these were very fittingly responded to by the groom. The happy couple left for a motor honeymoon trip to Montreal and Quebec, and on their return will reside in London.

Guests from out of town included Mrs. E. Simpson, Niagara Falls; Dr. Jack Simpson, London; Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Cohoon and son, Donald, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cohoon, Merlin; Mrs. Bampfield and Miss M. Bampfield, Niagara Falls; Dr. Carl Cline, London; Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Chalk, Calton; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Prowse, London; Mrs. Brown, London; Dr. and Mrs. Harold Pink, Delaware; Mr. and Mrs. Syd. S. McDermand, Lakeview; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Davidson, Detroit; C. HURON COLLEGE CHAPEL, loveflowers and baskets of lilac and bridal wreath, was the setting for a pretty summer wedding at 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, when Dorothy Aileen Freda Anderson, M.D., younger daughter of Rev. Frank Anderson, D.D., and Mrs. Anderson, became the bride of Dr. Charles A. (Carl) Cline, Jun., son of Dr. C. A. Cline and the late Mrs. Cline of this city. Rev. Dr. Anderson, the bride's father, and Dr. C. Waller, principal of Huron College, conducted the ceremony.

The bride entered the chapel on the arm of her brother-in-law, Dr. George Wainwright of Owen Sound, to the music of "The March of the Peers" from "Iolanthe," played by G. A. C. Webb, chapel organist. Her gown was of old ivory crepe on simple lines, with long sleeves, and the slipper-heel-length skirt sweeping into a short train. The handsome veil of net and Brussels lace was worn by the bride's mother at her wedding in Bombay, India, 34 years ago, and was caught at either side of the head with a knot of orange blossoms. The bride carried a white prayer book with a trail of gardenias on the bookmark.

The Attendants.

Mrs. George Wainwright of Owen Sound, as her sister's matron of honor, was gowned in yellow triple sheer crepe with a turban and slippers to match, while Miss Margaret Cowley of this city, the bridesmaid, wore a similar model in green with a green turban and slippers. Both attendants carried sheaves of garden flowers. Dr. Murray Simpson was the best man and the ushers were Bradley Granger and Calvin Hodgins.

During the signing of the register Calvin Hodgins sany "The Prayer Perfect.

Following the service a reception was held in the college common room. Mrs. Anderson, mother of the bride. in a gray crepe ensemble with a gray hat and a shoulderette of sweet peas, and Mrs. B. Brown, sister of the groom, wearing robins egg blue crepe with a white hat, received with the bridal party. Pouring tea at a table centred with garden flowers and the wedding cakes were Mrs. C. C. Waller and Miss Wilhelmena Elliott. Friends of the bride who assisted in serving were the Misses Kathleen Johnson, Louise O'Flaherty and Betty

Helen Moore Reg. N. Becomes Bride of Dr. William Dick At Lovely House Ceremony

One of the loveliest of autumn weddings took place at three o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. G. Moore, at Idlewylde, Grand avenue, when their elder daughter, Helen Maude, Reg. N., became the bride of William S. Dick, M.D., M.Sc., also of London, son of Mrs. Dick and the late Alexander C. Dick, of St. Catharines. The bride is a graduate of Alma College, and of Victoria. Hospital, London, and the bridegroom is a graduate of the University of Western Ontario.

Rev. Perry S. Dobson, principal of Alma College, performed the ceremony, assited by Rev. Thomas Green. D. D., of Wesley United Church. The wedding march was played by the bride's young sister Beatrice, who chose a charming period frock of orchid taffeta with shoulderette of sweet peas and roses. During the signing of the register, the bride's cousin, Miss Beth Reed, sang in pleasing voice "I Love You Truly." Miss Reed chose a pale green frock with touches of peach color, and a shoulderette of roses and lily of the valley.

The ceremony was performed in the long drawing room, before the bay window, which was banked with palins and ferns. Wrought iron standards were used, filled with pastel-tinted gladioli, snow-on-the-mountain and clematis. Bowls of Briarcliffe roses were placed effectively through the rooms. The pretty yopng bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her imported gown of ivory lace, form-fitting, the skirt flaring into a short train, the bodice showing a smart jacket design with long fitted sleeves and a high neckline with a clever jabot of the lace. The bride wore a three-quarter length veil of fine ivory net embroidered at the corners and arranged in cap style with little clusters of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was a shower of 'valley lilies, bouvardia and Butterfly roses and her only ornament was the groom's gift, a har pin set with amethysts. Slippers of ivory corded silk completed her costume.

The bridegroom's sister, Miss Jessie Dick, of St. Catharines, as the bridesmaid,, wore a graceful fitted gown of pale pink crepe with pink tulie, flaring from the knees. Her hat was a picture model of pale blue with pink Gainsborough roses and pink corded ribbon and she wore blue slippers and carried a Colonial "cuff" bouquet of lilies of the valley and sweet peas.

Gordon A. Morris, B.A., M.D., was the best man and the bride's cousin, Harry Reed, acted as usher.

Mrs. Moore, the bride's mother, received in a handsome gown of maroon velvet with shoulderette of Butterfly roses. Mrs. Dick chose a black lace costume and also wore a shoulderette of roses.

THE RECEPTION

The reception was followed by a wedding luncheon in the spacious dining-room where the decorations were delightful. Cascade showers of asparagus fern and snow-on-themountain banked the mantle and were arranged over the electrolier from which fell showers of white ribbons to the table below which was covered with a handsome linen cloth and centered with a lovely arrangement of sweet peas, Butterfly roses and lilies of the valley. Tall pink tapers in silver holders were used.

Later Dr. and Mrs. William Dick left by motor for Eastern states and on their return will live on Grand avenue, this city. The bride traveled in a brown dress with smart trimming of sable, coat of Stanley tweed in brown tones and brown shoes, hat and accessories.

Fischer-Hilbert

One of the smartest weddings of the Easter season took place this afternoon in Trinity Lutheran Church, when Anna Loretta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Hilbert, of this city, became the bride of Dr. Lavergne C. Fischer, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Fischer, also of London. The pastor, Rev. C. J. Killinger, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Wilfrid McNaughton, sister of the bride, was at the organ, playing the "Lohengrin" bridal music and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March." A short program of violin music was given before the ceremony by Miss Norma Kenny, who wore a pretty gown of chiffon in ashes of roses tint, with matching accessories.

The bride's gown was of white point d'esprit over white satin in bouffant style with white satin ribbon cleverly tucked in the skirt and full, wrist-length sleeves. Tiny satin bows ornamented the bodice from the Peter Pan neck to the waistline and from the back of the collar white satin streamers fell to the hem of the gown. The bridal veil was of white tulle with frill of narrow, knife-pleating framing the face, and held in place with orange blossoms and loops of white satin ribbons. The bride carried an arm bouquet of Briarcliff roses with valley lilies and maidenhair fern, knotted with white ribbons.

Miss Geraldine Fischer, sister of the groom, as maid of honor, was gowned in spring apple green net with taffeta applique and wore a matching picture hat with tiny pink velvet flowers and crepe sandals trimmed in silver. Hhe bouquet was of sweet peas in pastel shades. Miss Lilian Brazill, who sang "O Perfect Love,' in charming voice during the signing of the register, chose a smart gown of navy triple sheer, floor length, with bolero and smart hat of navy bangkok. Her flowers were a corsage of pink carnations and sweet peas.

Kermit Fischer, brother of the groom, was the best man, and the ushers were Roy Uttley and Lloyd Fischer, cousins of the groom, and Woodrow Hilbert, nephew of the bride.

Pale-tinted daffodils and Easter lilies were arranged in the church, where white hangings and markers, embroidered in gold, were used on the altar, lectern and pulpit. Ivory tapers in silver candelabra lighted the altar.

A reception at Glen Allen Villa followed the ceremony. The bride's mother, Mrs. O. F. Hilbert, received in a gown of black triple sheer with yoke and sleeves of gold thread and smart Peggy Ann hat with French forget-me-nots. Her shoulderette was of Talisman roses tied with gold ribbon. Mrs. George Fischer, mother of the groom, chose a bright navy georgette gown with matching hat trimmed in coque feathers. Her flowers were Premier roses, tied with silver ribbon.

Later, Dr. and Mrs. Fischer left on a motor trip to Western points, the bride going away in a gray ensemble with black accessories. On their return they will reside in Casa Barra apartments, Kitchener.

Sixty-five guests were present for the wedding.

Miss Dorothy Anee Ellis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ellis, Stirling street, became the bride of Dr. Wilbert Walter Hollands, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hollands, Aylmer, at a charming summer wedding solemnized on Saturday in the Church of the Resurrection, Manor Park, by Rev. Terence J. Finlay, assisted by Rev. William T. Smith. Mr. and Mrs. Hollands are shown leaving the church following the ceremony. The reception was held in the church hall.

Hollands - Ellis

A lovely summer wedding was solemnized at the Church of the Resurrection on Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock when Dorothy Annie Ellis, daug' ter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Ellis, Sterling street, became the bride of Dr. Wilbert Hollands, of this city, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hollands, of Aylmer, Ont.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. J. Finlay and Rev. W. T. Smith. The church was beautifully arranged with pink and white carnations, summer blooms, ferns and palms. There was a full choral service with Leonard McNichol presiding at the organ. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was charming in a gown of white fitted satin with a high neck line and dolman sleeves shirred from the elbow to the wrist. A tulle veil was caught in a cap effect with orange blossoms, and the bridal bouquet was of pink briarcliffe roses. White satin slippers completed the ensemble. Miss Dorothea Kersey, of Watford, was the bridesmaid, and was lovely in nile green organza, floor length, with bishop sleeves, high neck line and full skirt. Her hat was of white french lace straw with a trim of matching green velvet. She carried a bouquet of yellow pernet roses and pale pink larkspur. George Kaiser, of Toronto, was best man, and Jack Kersey, of Watford, and Harry McNichol, of London, were ushers. Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Sunday schoolroom of the church, where the bridal couple was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Ellis and Mrs. Hollands. Mrs. Ellis chose a smart dress of orchid triple sheer with a bolero jacket, white accessories and a shoulderette of roses and sweet peas and Mrs. Hollands wore corn flower blue printed chiffon with lighter blue accessories and picture hat, and a shoulderette of roses and sweet peas. Some 30 guests attended the reception for which the rooms were prettily decorated with pink and white, and the table arranged with tall candles in silver holders, and summer blooms. Mrs. Alfred Roberts, Miss Ruth Fisher and Miss Alice Sutton, friends of the bride, assisted in serving. Later the couple left on a motor trip to Muskoka, the bride wearing a smart tailored ensemble of navy blue net trimmed with navy taffeta and stitched in white, with white accessories.

On their return they will live in London South.

Christianson-Petticrew 13

At 12.15 yesterday, one of the summer's loveliest weddings took place at Talbot Street Baptist Church, Rev. P. P. W. Ziemann officiating, when Aileen Kate, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robinson Petticrew, of North London, became the bride of Dr. Ralph A. Christianson, of Hamilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Christianson, also of Hamilton.

Kingsley Ireland played the wedding music, and during the signing of the register Mrs. Charles May, of Hamilton, sang in charming voice "At Dawning." Mrs. May chose a becoming orchid organza gown. with white accessories.

Decorations at the church were done with pastel flowers and tall standard candelabra, each holding seven ivory tapers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her white net gown over justrous satin, in redingote design, the full skirt, flared from the hips, having an ornamentation of narrow satin ribbon along the hem. A pleated frill of net outlined the becoming square neckline of the bodice, which was also edged with satin ribbon and accented with three clusters of satin rosebuds. Tiny satin buttons and short puffed sleeves were modish notes. 'The bride wore a large white hat of mohair trimmed with folds of tulle at the brim and a cluster of satin roses. Her sandals were of white satin and she carried a shower of pink roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Frank Schram, as matron of honor, chose pale green net over satin, also in redingote style, with a wide-brimmed pink hat, pink gloves and shoes and a Colonial bouquet. Miss Noreen Petticrew, who attended her sister as bridesmaid, was also frocked in net over satin, in a delicate shade of pink. She wore gardenias in her hair and carried a Colonial bouquet. The flower girl, little Virginia Richardson, of Ottawa, wore a dainty frock of maize net over satin, with clusters of flowers at neck and waist and on the short puffed sleeves. She wore a wreath of flowers and carried a tiny Colonial bouquet.

David Christianson, of Hamilton, was his brother's best man, and the ushers were brothers of the bride and groom, Lionel and Cleland Petticrew, of London, and Dr. M. Paul Christianson, of Hamilton, and William D. Christianson, Jr., of St. Catharines.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Richmond street north. Mrs. Petticrew received in a smart gown of chiffon in candy stripes with white hat, gloves and shoes and a shoulderette of gardenias. Mrs. Christianson, mother of the bridegroom, received in white silk crepe, a jacket costume flowered in colors, with white hat and shoes and a shoulderette of orchids and lavender sweet peas.

Garden flowers were used in profusion through the house and the bride's table was attractive with pastel pink roses and white tapers.

Later Dr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Christianson left for Toronto and Ottawa, en route to Montreal, whence they sail on August 9 to take up residence for several years, in England. The bride went away in a yellow linen tailleur with brown bolero and brown accessories.

McLandress - Heath

MT. BRYDGES, Sept. 21 - The marriage of Lulu Elizabeth Heath, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heath, Mt. Brydges, to Dr. Kenneth William McLandress, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McLandress. Dutton, took place recently at the home of the bride's brother, T. W. Heath, Mitchell. Rev. R. E. Southcott, of Mt. Brydges United Church, officiated. Mr. and Mrs. John Skinner presided at the piano, playing a duo arrangement of the wedding music from a "Midsummer Night's Dream," by Mendelssohn, while the guests were assembling, and upon the entrance of the bride played the wedding music from Lohengrin. Mrs. Skinner was lovely in black silk net over black taffeta with corsage of sunburst roses. During the signing of the register, Mrs. T. W. Heath, wearing sky blue taffeta, with corsage of sweetheart roses, sang "All Joy Be Thine." The house was decorated with a profusion of autumn flowers, a bank of which made a delightful setting for the lovely bride and her attendants. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was a charming figure in a period dress of ivory satin, made with basque jacket and graceful train of satin. Her exquisite veil was caught in a halo of satin and tulle. She carried a shower bouquet of rapture roses and bouvardia. Miss Nenone Wheaton, of London, acted as bridesmaid, wearing a gown of rainbow chiffon in rose shades and hat of black net. She carried a bouquet of rose-hill roses. Little Richard Heath, nephew of the bride, wearing white flannel trousers and blue blazer, acted as ring bearer. Dr. Andrew Williamson, of Grand Valley, was best man. The bride's mother wore black chiffon and lace with picture hat and corsage of red templar roses. The groom's mother was lovely in black velvet with matching hat and wearing a corsage of premier roses and statice. After the ceremony, a dainty buffet luncheon was served by friends of the bride, gowned alike in varying pastel shades. Miss Madeleine Cameron in pink, Miss Dorothy Ruston in blue, Miss Loretta Aikens in mauve, Miss Marjorie Carroll in yellow, and Miss Blanche Edighoffer in green. The bride's table was centred with white roses and baby's breath with pink tapers in silver holders on each side, the bride's cake and the groom's cake at either end of the table completing the delightful arrangement. Immediately afterwards, Dr. and Mrs. Mc-Landress left on a motor trip to New York City by way of the Adirondacks, the bride traveling in dress of brown chiffon with beige coat and hat, shoes and accessories in antique brown. Guests were present from London, Dutton, Toronto, St. Thomas, Mt. Brydges, Windsor, Grand Valley, Hamilton, Mitchell.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Dodd announce the engagement of their elder daughter, Dorothy Winnifred, to Dr. Herbert Stanley Heard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heard, both of London, the marriage to take place November 27.

Heard - Dodd

A charming wedding of Saturday afternoon took place at St. Peter's Rectory, at 3.30 when Dorothy Winnifred, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Dodd, Queen's avenue, this city, became the bride of Dr. Herbert Stanley Heard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heard, Adelaide street. Rev. W. T. Flannery, D.D., uncle of the bride, performed the ceremony. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a graceful floor-length gown of sapphire blue velvet, the skirt flaring into a slight train. Her tiny halo hat, in the same becoming shade of blue, was ornamented with small ostrich tips and a veil of blue maline. She wore silver shoes and carried a shower of tea roses. Leaving the rectory for the Highland Club where the reception took place, the bride donned a smart wrap of gray squirrel. Miss Mary Barbara Dodd, as her sister's only attendant, was gowned in petunia velvet, with slippers and halo hat to match. Her flowers were a sheaf of yellow roses. Dr. Howard Clark, of Toronto, was best man. At the Highland Club Mrs. Dodd received in a handsome black velvet gown with black hat and shoulderette of orchids. Mrs. Robert Heard chose a fuchsia velvet gown and matching hat. Roses and pastel pink tapers were used in decorating the bride's table. During the reception Mrs. Ward Cornell sang an Ave Maria and "Because" and soft music was provided by Mrs. Milton Armstrong, violinist; Mrs. Charles Wilson, 'cellist, and Mrs. D. Frank Smith, pianist. Later Dr. and Mrs. Heard left for Montreal and Quebec, the bride going away in a black crepe gown with sequin bodice and sequin hat and veil. Her seal coat was collared in silver

They will return to London for a short time before leaving for California where, on January 1, Dr. Heard will take over his duties on the staff of the Hollywood Sick Children's Hospital.
